

Foreign worker applications to take leave in their home country

I would like to take leave and return to my home country to deal with some family affairs, but my employer said that is not possible, is that right?

The Employment Service Act clearly states:

- Employers should agree when a foreign worker files a request to take leave in his or her home country during the period of employment.
- ✗ However, based on business operations or the urgent needs of a care recipient, the employer is required to hold talks with the foreign worker and adjust the date on which he or she goes on leave.

What sort of leave should I apply for?

Workers covered by the Labor Standards Act

Can apply for annual leave as provided for by the Labor Standards Act

Workers not covered by the Labor Standards Act

Can apply for annual leave as detailed in the labor contract and arrange leave to return to their home country while the employment contract is still valid or to return before the employment permit expires.
